This probabilistic online panel survey was fielded by Nielsen Scarborough among a nationally representative sample. 1738 panelists completed the survey including a national sample of 875 adults, plus an oversample of 863 self-identified Evangelical or Born-again Christians, making for a total sample of Evangelicals/born again Christians of 1074., November 4-10, 2015.

Survey Methodology

The survey was conducted November 4 - 10 with a panel consisting of a probability-based representative sample. The panel was recruited by Nielsen Scarborough from its larger probability-based national panel, which was recruited by mail and telephone using a random sample of households provided by Survey Sampling International.

A total of 1738 panelists completed the survey including a national sample of 875 adults, plus an oversample of 863 self-identified Evangelical or Born-again Christians, making for a total sample of Evangelicals/born again Christians of 1074. Responses were weighted by age, gender, income, education, race, and geographic region using benchmarks from the US Census. The survey was also weighted by partisan identification and Evangelical and Born-again Christians were down-weighted consistent with these groups' incidence rate in Nielsen Scarborough sample, so that they represented 24% of the national sample for this study (211 of 875).

The margins of error for the national sample and for each subgroup is:

National – 875 respondents, MoE: 3.3%

Evangelical – 586, MoE: 4%

Born-Again – 1003, MoE: 3.1% (88% of Evangelicals also identified as Born-again)

Born-again, but not Evangelical – 488, MoE: 4.4%

Born Again or Evangelical- 1074, MoE: 3%
