fielded by Nielsen Scarborough

Survey Methodology

The survey was conducted October 5-14, 2016 with a panel consisting of a probability-based representative sample. The panel was recruited by Nielsen Scarborough from its larger probability-based national panel, which was recruited by mail and telephone using a random sample of households provided by Survey Sampling International. A total of 1528 panelists completed the survey. Responses were weighted by age, gender, income, education, race, and geographic region using benchmarks from the U.S. Census. The survey was also weighted by partisan identification. The margin of error is 2.5%

Valuable assistance was provided by Neil Schwartz, Scott Willoth, and Jordan Evangelista from Nielsen Scarborough. Brittany Kyser, Rachel Slattery, and Anne Peckham were particularly helpful.

Note: Percentages may not always add to one-hundred due to rounding.

MIDDLE EAST ISSUES

Now we would like to ask you specifically about American foreign policy toward the Middle East.

Q46. How much influence do you believe the Israeli government has on American politics and policies?

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Too little influence	22%	9%	14%	15%
2. Too much influence	22	55	36	39
3. About the right level of influence	54	35	44	44
Refused	2	1	5	2

Q47a. In general, what role do you want the new Trump administration to play in mediating the Israeli-Palestinian conflict? Should the new Trump administration:

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Lean toward Israel	56%	17%	29%	35%
2. Lean toward the Palestinians	<1	11	2	6
3. Lean toward neither side	42	69	66	57
Refused	2	3	4	2

Q47b. If the new Trump administration engages in mediating the Israeli-Palestinian conflict, what do you believe it will, in fact, do?

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Lean toward Israel	62%	55%	46%	57%
2. Lean toward the Palestinians	<1	14	10	8
3. Lean toward neither side	35	27	42	32
Refused	3	4	3	3

Q48. As you may know, there have been suggestions that the UN Security Council should endorse the establishment of a Palestinian state. This idea has received some support in Europe, but opposition in Israel. If the UN Security Council considers such a plan, what do you think the U.S. should do as a member of the UN Security Council?

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Vote in favor of endorsing the establishment	17%	51%	22%	34%

of a Palestinian state

2. Vote against endorsing the establishment of a Palestinian state including using America's veto power to prevent such an endorsement	51	16	17	31
3. Abstain from voting	29	29	59	32
Refused	3	4	2	3

Q49. One of the issues of tension between the United States and Israel has been its construction of Israeli settlements in the territories occupied by Israel in the 1967 war. These settlements are considered illegal by most of the international community and have been opposed by every U.S. administration, both Republican and Democratic. The Israeli government has continued to build settlements arguing that they have the right to do so, or that these are not obstacles to peace. How do you believe the U.S. should react to new settlements?

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Do nothing	34%	13%	34%	24%
2. Limit U.S. opposition to words, but take no other action	34	24	20	28
3. Impose some economic sanctions, either through the United Nations or unilaterally	22	42	35	33
4. Take more serious action	9	18	7	13
Refused	2	2	5	2

Q52. The Obama administration is reportedly considering taking action on the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict in the hope that it would preserve the two-state solution that the U.S. supports as a solution to the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict. Two options are reportedly being considered. One is a UN Resolution stating the parameters of a solution. The other is to take steps to limit the Israeli settlement buildup in the West Bank that both Republican and Democratic administrations have opposed. I would like to ask you the following questions related to these proposals.

Now tell me how much you agree or disagree with each of the following:

Q52a. It's wrong for Obama to act on such an important issue during the transition. The decision on this issue should be left to President Trump to deal with, regardless of the complexity of our political system. Besides, it's not up to the United States and the international community to decide the final parameters of the political solution on this issue. This should be left first and foremost to the parties themselves. In addition, the Israeli government has opposed such steps and we must be mindful not to alienate them.

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Strongly agree	45%	9%	23%	26%
2. Somewhat agree	27	13	22	20
3. Neither agree nor disagree	19	24	37	23
4. Somewhat disagree	4	27	10	15
5. Strongly disagree	1	26	6	13
Refused	4	2	2	3

Q52b. One reason the United States has been ineffective in addressing the Israeli-Palestinian conflict is that American Presidents face domestic political constraints in Congress, campaign contributions, and lobbies. Presidents have an opportunity to act effectively to advance the national interest during the Presidential transitions when they face fewer constraints. President Ronald Reagan did this before he left office in starting a dialogue with the Palestine Liberation Organization that may have helped bring the PLO and Israel together five years later. The US has a stake in this issue and it's clear the parties have not been able to resolve it on their own. Obama should seize the opportunity.

	Rep	Dem	Ind	Total
1. Strongly agree	7%	41%	14%	23%
2. Somewhat agree	14	30	21	22
3. Neither agree nor disagree	28	19	38	25
4. Somewhat disagree	21	5	7	12
5. Strongly disagree	28	3	20	16
Refused	3	2	1	2

Now tell me how you feel about the following possibilities:

Q53a. President Obama's support or sponsorship for a United Nations resolution that outlines the parameters for ending the Israeli-Palestinian conflict before he leaves office.

4. Somewhat Support	19	29	21	24
5. Strongly Support	3	41	15	22
Refused	3	2	2	2

Q53b. President Obama's support or sponsorship for a United Nations Resolution to end Israeli settlement construction in the West Bank before he leaves office.

Q54. Generally speaking, how much do you agree or disagree with the following statements on the U.S.-Israeli relationship?

Q54a. Israel is an important ally to the United States as it provides essential military and intelligence cooperation and plays a regional role that's helpful to American interests.

2. Somewhat Disagree	9	17	16	14
3. Somewhat Agree	36	49	45	43
